Dang - gonna be some good eating! 😊

This really sounds like a good time.

As a practical matter, we should insure that we have logistical capability. I don't know how many outlets there are at the pavilion but somebody should probably bring a power strip for all the crock pots etc. I think last year there were perhaps six or eight electric pots etc? There's plenty of table space. We have the use of a good sized gas grill but somebody might care to bring a hibachi or additional grill etc.

Just thinking out loud.
