No offense taken, Gaerof. I appreciate any sort of advise and criticism (healthy or no) regarding my work. I don't want to be mediocre when it comes to trying. I want to be great at tying. Does this go with all flies, or just nymphs? Should my heads be around the same size for every fly? Learning how to tie in the Winter is great, since I don't go out much in the cold. I don't mind cold weather, I just prefer it not be cold AND windy, which seems to be the trend lately when it's cold outside.
