

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Prince Nymph

Re: Prince Nymph

Author: : gaeronf

Date: : 2013/1/23 21:11:10

URL:

On almost all my flies I like small heads. Throw a quick search into google "fly tying nymphs" or something like that. If you notice, the ones without beads have small thread heads. The original purpose of building up a thread head was to close the eye of the hook, because there used to be decent gaps in the eye (or so I have been told).