

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Euro- Czech nymphing my new favorite

Re: Euro- Czech nymphing my new favorite

Author: : WildTigerTrout

Date: : 2013/1/24 11:16:24

URL:

Quote:

SBecker wrote:

Quote:

WildTigerTrout wrote:

Quote:

mike_richardson wrote:

Tied up a few leaders last night. Went with a simple recipe for now.

7ft of trilene xt in 20 pound (green)

18" suffix high viz (yellow)

4-5' of suffix 6 pound flouro

end with tippet ring.

Going to try this out first. The whole set up cost me 25.00 for the supplies. I will be buying the Jan Siman bicolor soon but just wanted to play around with the cheaper stuff first. Will let you know how I make out. Will be fishing the first fork of the Sinnemahoning next weekend, not to sure i will get out this weekend.

IMO your leader is too long for a nymphing rig. By my calculations your leader is 12.5 to 13.5 feet without the tippet. IMO you should shorten it up to about the length of your flyrod and then add about 2 to 2.5' of tippet. I think you will lose contact with your fly with a leader that long. Just my opinion.

Depends on the style of high sticking he is doing. However, I don't think it is long enough.

This advice coming from a guy who can't catch a trout on a Green Weenie! 😬 Oh that hurt..... Got you. 😄