@Nimrod and Longwader - Thank you for the suggestions I will look in to both of them.

@Chaz, we do a guys trip down there every year, got a crazy video of a big shark being caught in like six feet of water.

@fishidiot - The very reason I asked for personal experiences is because there are countless numbers of guide boats.

Maybe I have written my post incorrectly but what I was looking for came from @Nimrod and @Longwader someone that had experience recently with a captain that had a good trip.

I am not sure why this type of post would be inappropriate for a forum since it's labeled "Fishing Locations" then I apologize.
