1wt- my dad owns Teds bar and grill in Harrisburg. Yea I remember the deal we did at bass pro. I used the rod for a little while. One of the guides started to de laminate. I gave it to my buddy I work with to re epoxy. He fixes it for me an brought it back to work. I left it in my office overnight. I come in to work the next morning an the tip was broken into 4 pieces. Dunno how it happened. I have other rods to fill that void, so I dunno if I'm gunna call orvis to get it replaced or not. As far as food, everyone loves snacks. Chips, dips, pretzels, ect.

Phish_on are you talking about the Ted that had the bar on Second St., and now owns the one on rte 22. if so I know your Father very well.

Paul, his dad bought the bar from Ted and kept the name. I always liked Ted. He's a good dude. On the Jam note, BTW, you bringing the pot this year Paul? Sorry, asking you that has become my annual thing and I couldn't help myself. 😊
