I was at the show today and planning on being there in the morning thru about 1:00. Please say hi if you see me, I'll be wearing my paflyfish hat!

Looks like there are several new exhibitors this year and the floor is full with booths. Decent early crowd on Friday. A lot sales happening Friday with what seemed like some decent deals. Many vendors expressed that they sold more than they were expecting today. There is plenty of deals, but come early on Sat and if you see something of value I wouldn't wait too long being indecisive about things.
