
Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : First Ties

First Ties

Author: : djs12354

Date: : 2013/1/26 17:09:40

URL:

Fly-Fishing just a year now and just started tying thanks to encouragement from Dan (Moonbeam) who started me down this path, Ed (Heritage Angler) and Dan (the Delta Dog) who influenced my receipt of a fly-tying kit.

I've sat in at A&G Outfitters, where Adam is patiently teaching some beginners, and today had some time to try my hand alone.

I decided to try Moonbeam's version of the infamous Green Weenie. It's tied on an Allen 3769 size 10 hook, weighted with lead wire and a Hot Orange, 4 mm, brass bead. Body is Orvis Med. Chartreuse chenille.

So, just how bad does it look and will it fool a stockie?

Attach file:

 GreenW1.JPG (78.62 KB)

