

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Hatches and good flies for white clay creek

Re: Hatches and good flies for white clay creek

Author: : Khprager

Date: : 2013/1/28 11:28:40

URL:

The WCC dh section in PA has a limited number of hatches due to stream bed habitat getting covered with silt after runoff events like Sandy. It does support a little black stonefly hatch in the winter in late jan and early feb. effective flies have been listed in the flyfishingdelaware.com site blog since 2006.