Why has the LL gone away as must spots to hit? I may be wrong but I have heard numerous people say that at one time it was a big destination and many out of state would head there .. what happened?

Also .. isn't Yellow Breeches creek one the more famous spots?

This year 2 things I want to do is catch brookies and get the feel for that type of fishing and hit a couple of these spots as most are easily 2 hrs from me. If I get up early enough most of these Central pa/ State college spots are doable for a day trip.

Ahhh .. so much fishing and so lil time!
