I know I'm a little late getting in on this, but I wanted to make sure I could commit fully before posting. I'll be there for the morning instructional session and through lunch time. Not sure how much of the on-stream stuff I can stay around for as I have a dinner-time commitment that evening.

H.A. - As far as helping out, I'd probably be most knowledgeable on the Brookie piece or stream selection, but it looks like we got some good know how in those areas already. I don't want to deviate from the format if you don't want to, but I'd offer to do a Smallie/WW stream station if you think that would be appropriate and generate some interest...gear, flies, stream selection, techniques, warmwater fish species identification, etc. I spend most of my Summer fishing time in WW streams. Let me know...happy to help elsewhere as needed too.
