Man you guys are doing a brookie video?? Actually I really wish I could help with that, no chance I'll be able to though. Should you guys come back from the stream and find you don't have enough video, feel free to use the brookie video I posted a while ago. I think some parts of that could be pretty helpful to beginners.

And if there are just one or two clips you want, shoot me a pm and I can get you the specific parts instead of you having to skip through the whole thing to find what you want to show.

One other thing, if you are going to be filming with multiple cameras, make sure the files they create are compatible with whatever editing program you want to use.
