

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Light Cured Adhesives

Re: Light Cured Adhesives

Author: : whheff

Date: : 2013/1/31 13:03:38

URL:

I have Bug Bond and I like it for my Copper Johns and other flies that you would use epoxy on. It is tack free which I think is a major point. Some products have a little tackie feeling to them after the are cured. I see the Hook and Hackle has a uv product on its web site that is really cheap. It is probable a good way to see the difference between the thick, thin and hydro types of coatings.

Bill