A few weeks ago, I received a great introductory offer from American Angler, and subscribed. 2 years, - 12 issues - for $12.

Glad to hear the good recommendations about it.

I got Pennsylvania Angler for many years, and it was a good magazine, - with no ads or hype. Chauncy Lively used to write an excellent fly tying article every month. But when they combined it with their boating magazine, and cut down to every other month publication, I let it expire. There just wasn't much in it that interested me anymore
