Phil, I was talking to Bop Pop in Lancaster last year and he explained the same thing to me about the tuffleye. It's a different light on the spectrum (blue?) and it would make sense that it's light is matched up to react optimally w/ that glue.

He also explained how much safer the tuffleye light was for this same reason. I guess since it isn't quite the same as UV? I'm not sure how much I buy the safety part though. Comparing to how much time people spend tanning or under the sun in general, I won't be losing sleep over it.
