

---

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Tie tie again

Re: Tie tie again

Author: : djs12354

Date: : 2013/2/3 14:58:56

URL:

Quote:

RCFetter wrote:

Way back in the 80s, when Orvis had a store in center city Phila, I attended a fly tying demo. When someone asked what do you do with the flies you mess up, the tyer said, "those are the ones I use, they still catch trout."

djs, we talked last year at a newbie jam follow up meeting. You sure have come a long way in 12 months. I'm still hunting for my first trout on a fly, but that only means I have something to look forward to.

I won't toss any in the trash, that's for sure!

If you are at this year's Newbie Jam, we have to make sure that we get you onto a fish! Might have to page Delta Dog and Volksnurse - If they can get Stagger Lee onto a fish, then it should be no problem to get you one!

(Only busting Andrew - I know how hard you have been working on your FF efforts!)

But RC, I have been lucky and there is a long way left for me to go on this journey to getting better!