Who knows about kayaks?

Looking at getting a kayak this year. I'm a big guy so I want something comfortable, and something I can fish from. It would mostly be for small lakes around me, and I'd like someone that's easy enough to strap on the roof of the minivan and take down to the shorehouse on the weekends to hit the back bay stripers and blues in the evening.

I don't want anything too pricey. I found a few under $300 but not sure if they are even worth it. Was also considering a sit on top one because they look easier to deal with overall and some you can stand on.

thoughts?
