I really like the features on the Sage Typhoon, but I see it is no longer available and I can't find any stores that still have them available. I talked to Sage today and they said they are coming out with a new one, but it is bright blue. Not really the color I am looking for to pack with. I also like the Simms Dry Creek backpack. The wader storage area on the Sage seems perfect for me though. It looks like a nice place to store the waders when hiking into or out of the fishing areas.

Thanks,
