I really appreciate the feedback from everyone.

I'm looking forward to the Lancaster Show. The website for the show has not posted a vendors list yet but I'm expecting there will be plenty of folks selling, or at least displaying flies. I need to get a better feel for sizes of flies. I get the "higher number/smaller fly" thing but when I get to streamers like WB's and the like, I don't quite have a feel for the # vs physical size. I'm gonna be like a kid in a candy shop at that show!
