While I love fishing for trout as my favorite species I hate the way they taste. So I dont keep them. That being said, if its legal its your decision.

I think a lot of stockies are in water that is incapable of holding and supporting trout all year so I would rather they go to the dinner table then float belly up down the stream.

If it can hold trout year round I would highly encourage C and R as I have fished several "hold over" waters nationally and the trout fishing is outstanding.
