Ryan,

How long have you had your current Risen Reel? Just wondering what your experience is with Longevity. I am sure mine will be going through the gauntlet. My okuma broke and internal spring within the first month. They sent me a spring right away, but to their defense it was 1 degree out ;)

I must also add that I love the fact you added a set screw in the drag system. My Okuma can have the drag be totally removed without warning. I like to get every fish on the reel and fight it that way so you can see where the benefit to this is. Also by crimping the "nut" if you will on the spool, there is no way to lose any other components.

GREAT FEATURES OF THE REEL!!
