Those of you who fish this river regularly (I don't):

What trends have you noted? Is the fishing poor everywhere you fish or just certain reaches? Certain times of the year? Fish size? Clearly, bass YOY are holding up. The fish are there. What do you think may explain poor fishing on the Delaware River?

I wouldn't say the bass fishing on the Delaware was poor this year by any means but the bycatch rate was way up. I've caught more trout and stripers than I have in the past. I fish a lot from Easton to Lambertville.
