

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Panfish in lancaster city

Panfish in lancaster city

Author: : jeremymcon

Date: : 2013/2/7 11:24:07

URL:

I know it's the middle of winter, but for some reason I've had panfish on my mind lately. I moved to lancaster this past august, and I have no idea where to find a decent place for sunnies or bass! The little conestoga is right outside my apartment, but I didn't catch much in there this past fall- I did get one largemouth bass, and caught a carp (on spinning gear), but mostly what I see there are fallfish. I was hoping to find some bluegill or pumpkinseed or something, but didn't have any luck.

Are there any parks in lancaster that have decent panfish populations? Sometimes I just want to catch some sunnies rather than driving all the way out to the donegal for trout.