ok you were talking about the general public ;)

Even if it was the general public it still sounds a bit elitist in any sense. You can circle back through the threads and see its a trend.

Yes, I was talking about the generalized public of the area I reside. If you feel that I am an elitist, I might be. However, others on here would laugh at you. Actually, they probably are. Just like they do for the rest of you posts.

O and just remember, you called me out. Have a good day :insert smiley face here:
