

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Little J

Re: Little J

Author: : fedupangler

Date: : 2006/9/22 21:35:40

URL:

You're right. It will be any day now. The judge had 90 days to make a decision. The important thing to remember is that once the judge makes his ruling, the src CAN appeal, but it won't do any good. Once this ruling is made, it will be very unlikely to be changed. The Little Lehigh is a perfect example. The ruling was appealed, and finally the judge declared that no further appeals would be heard. The ruling will stand forever. I can just see the waters in front of the SRC club now. It will be like the first day of trout season down there. I might go just to watch the festivities! :)

The PAFBC is certain they will win. Now it's on to Yellow Creek or whatever the next reasonable winnable battle would be.