I don't think the hook is going to be open. They are not selling buggy passes and I thing it's still a mess. I also know they have a problem with some missing explosives. There was and article about a surf fisherman who found eight live grenades in the area. I don't think they are making much progress to cause the money is tied up with congress. That being said I think the furthest ire gonna get is Monmouth. Theirs always IBSP. I personally like it better. More options and structure.
