Nothing like fishing all day after a night of beer drinking and when you take your waders off at the end of the day, bend over to untie your boots and the smell squeezes out. Whoaaa.

Once I did just this after fishing a few hours at the gunpowder. Paul G and I were in the parking lot breaking down our rods and a woman drove up, got out and walked over to ask how the fishing was...Paul did the talking, I squatted down and squeezed out a basketballs worth of concentrated fecal cologne. Right in the circle with Paul and the gal. So embarrassing. Needless to say, Paul said lets go over here and I will tell you about the fishing.
