Kudos Mike. I'll second those who have suggested you meet with your local WCO. Meeting with the landowners and walking the stream is the first step. Your WCO will have the contacts at PFBC who can help coordinate the permits with DEP. The actual construction phase (if you wind up doing in-stream work) will be limited to the months June-Sept to protect spawning. In the meantime, you can do riparian work, tree plantings and cessation of bankside mowing and such.

Good luck with your stream project.
