The outfitters all take out at bruner run - downstream of ohiopyle.

But there has been a lot of debate on this forum over whether that access is open to the public or not. There is a gate that is open sometimes, I guess. I've never tried it.

There is another access point about half way between bruner run and connellsville called camp carmel. It is a gravel road that runs off of the hard top road going between dunbar and ohiopyle. I was down that road once many years ago. It was a little bumpy, but not too bad to drive with a car
