Cool. Those breaches usually mean good fishing due to the constant influx cool and clean ocean water. That same year the 'southway' breach closed, a breach opened up on MV - out on Chappaquiddick. Created as a result of the 2007 'Patriots Day' noreaster. This breach actually made Chappy a legitimate island. Since that time the flats fishing - if you hit it right - can be off the charts! Pretty much like dry fly fishing on steroids!!!
