

Subject: : Fly Fishing Events and Meet-ups

Topic: : Newbie Brookie Expedition/Jam?

Re: Newbie Brookie Expedition/Jam?

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/2/11 20:40:52

URL:

I'm certainly interested and would love something like this as much or more than any other get togethers outside of the main jam. I hold that June would be optimal from a fishing perspective.

From an availability perspective, I probably can't commit to dates until much closer to the time. And this is probably a bad time frame for me actually. With extensive May plans including, but not limited to, the main jam, I'll have had lots of serious fishing time under my belt in the recent past. And I'll likely be lacking in "domestic points" as a result.

While I'm not encouraging it based on when I'm available, really June is the start of the good period for this sort of thing. These streams rarely suffer from being too warm. Too low can get to be a problem and is more likely the later in the summer you get. But even then you can usually choose the stream wisely and be fine.