I would be fine catching carp and catfish on top

Me too! This year, I'm going to hit the Susquehanna big time for carp and channel cats.

There are so very many common carp and channel cats in the lower Susquehanna. With most of the smallmouth gone, I kinda gave up for the last couple years, but I'll be back with a vengeance (and my 8wt) pretty soon.

So many times I have seen lots of carp sipping flies off the surface, and this year I'll be after the "fresh water bonefish"
