Not all reels are universal, I have 2 real cheap reels that you don't have this option. If you purchase on line you can always call the shop and they should be able to tell you it's options.

If you can't flip the drag disk over, sometimes you can carefully remove the retaining clip on the inside of the spool and flip the shaft bearing over (particularly on some of the Flea Bay reels..)

Careful with the retaining clip. I've found they can fly pretty far...
