Thanks bassman. May need all your help with respect to the knots!!!! LOL...My issue may be connecting the leader to tippet. From what I have been reading sounds like the nail knot is the way to go.

My guess the only way to learn to to get out their and just started fishing!!!!!! I'm sure there will be lots of mistakes made however it is nice to know you are all here for advice!!!! I am very intersted in attending some of your get togethers so looking forward to meeting many of you this season!!!!!!
