

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Brook Trout Management Study in Western Maryland

Re: Brook Trout Management Study in Western Maryland

Author: : midgeman

Date: : 2013/2/14 9:13:04

URL:

I personally killed a lot of trout on C&R artificial only waters using inline spinners...even with the barbs crushed. I noticed I would kill more rainbows then browns. It seemed as if rainbows were more prone to getting hooked in the gills. That was when I first got into trout fishing. I cant recall one time that I've killed a trout fly fishing besides culling for a rare meal. Not once have I deep hooked at trout. There's no doubt that fly fishing has a much lower mortality rate then the artifical lures that I used.