Hey guys,

I recently posted about coming to PA in April and doing some fishing. My family has an annual King Trout contest on opening trout weekend. All of them are bait and spin casters. I would like to go out and fly fish the river, and beat the breaks off of them. Our trip is going to be in the Allegheny National Forest on Spring Creek. I have fished it once before with lures, but now I am super into fly fishing having moved to NM. Any useful knowledge is appreciated when it comes to flys and other techniques that could come in handy. Thank you all in advance.

Tight Lines everyone,

Buddy
