I look at it this way. as a tyer you are always learning. You can gain the most information from older anglers. Anglers that were not influence buy magazines or the web.

I am by no means a profly Tyer.

I made the comment that that fly looks like bob's banger at a larger scale.

B/c it looks like bob's banger on steroids.

Been trying to mimic the pattern. I cant get it to swim like his. i have talked to Bob about it told me not to go too long because it already leave a longer profile in the water. Told me to have fun with it!
