but learn to enjoy fly fishing for many reasons, not just the fish. A day on the water will start to become a reward in and of itself.

Take these words to heart. I never fished in my life and picked up a fly rod for the first time last April. It was (and continues) to be frustrating fishing for trout and excluding my 1st I caught by 'accident ' with Volks last April .... I went all the way until late fall/ early winter until I caught another .. tho I had great success with WW.

Unfortunately I do not have the time to fish as much and hone my skills to where I would like them to be so ... each and every time I'm on a stream I make sure to enjoy the beauty and tranquility of being outdoors on the h2o.
