Howdy gang !

New guy here....have been lurking for awhile...

Looking for a new 9'4wt...and as the title says I cant decide between the Helios 2, Sage One, or Zenith.

I have read the on-line 4wt and 5wt shoot-outs and various reports/reviews..and I have casted all 3 at the Fly Show..and liked them all...My nod went to the Sage as it felt to me a little more responsive...more feeling all the way down the blank...while the Helios 2 seemed less so...but I dont know what they had for demo lines...my mistake for not asking...

Have any of you here had the pleasure to compare these 4wts on the water ? and what line were you throwing?

That Sage One 9'3wt has my attention too!!!

I own a decent quiver of rods....really dont need a new one...but...well...some of you probably know how that goes....

Thanks !
