IMO, you need 2 rods. There is no rod available that will do small mountain streams AND steelhead together. I'd suggest a 7-8ft 2-3wt rod for the brookies and a 9-10ft 6 or 7wt for the steel. If you get something in between it will do neither very well. The 2 things you're after are too drastically different to cover with 1 rod.

That said, once you decide what size rod you want, go cast them. You'll make your decision after you have them in your hand.
