I'm awful with boxes. I have too many. I have two medium sized swingleaf boxes, one Orvis and one C&F. The orvis one keeps all my eggs, worms, junkflies, etc. The C&F has midges, nymphs, czechs, PTs, etc. I have a Plano side by side which is full of about 300 dries, in various sizes, and then for streamers, I built a custom box out of a big doctor slick scissor gift box. I ripped out everything and glued down foam. It's got about 50 articulated streamers, some classic stuff (ghosts, mickey finns, etc) and tons of buggers. Then the inside of my sling bag has a fly foam patch that's full of slumpbusters and leeches.

Dont get me started on my salt and bass boxes...urgh. There's gotta be a better way.
