I've been thinking lately that I ought to get some sort of rain coat or poncho or something so I can fish when it's raining outside. Anybody have recommendations? I'd want to spend as little as possible. I was thinking about getting one of those waterproof coats from walmart's sporting goods section since they're so cheap.

I'm not really sure how I'd make a raincoat work with my fishing vest though - do I wear the vest outside my coat and let it get saturated? Or should I get a raincoat that's large enough for me to wear my vest underneath it?
