Hey guys, long time lurker first time poster here... I'm looking for some good fly fishing locations for this spring. I'm going to be taking 2 days off from work. I stay in eastern maryland so I'm looking for something that wouldn't take too much time to get to. I've considered western maryland but I figured if look into pa too.

I'd prefer late march-early to mid April if possible. Somewhere that I could hit a few good streams and have a couple of really nice days on the water. I wouldn't be opposed to camping either if anyone has any recommendations.

Thanks guys!
