Jeff,

Welcome to our online community. Your question is very broad and could literally involve hundreds (if not thousands) of answers. Try the Pennsylvania Trout Streams link in the upper right side of this page. This will provide directions and fishing regulations. If you find some streams that look appealing, take some time to scroll through the Reports forum and search 'em. You can search by stream, date, and county and most of the well known waters are well represented in that forum.
