looked on the PF&BC site..looks like April 13th is opening day with march 30th being regional opening day. Regional of course only includes southeastern PA counties (lancaster, york, berks, just to name a few). looked up stocking dates, some are going to be the first week in mrch but most will be later in the month. I'm so amped because they are stocking the little shenango that runs through my town of Greenville within the first week. I'll def be throwing on the waders and scoping out the area/ my usual spots
