I have not kept a trout for over 25 years. I usually fish barbless. I am sure I have unintentionally killed some fish over the years, but I try to keep it to the bare minimum. I have no problem with others keeping their fish. That being said, when I did harvest my trout there was nothing like trout and eggs for breakfast. The trout sauteed in butter with just a squeeze of lemon, a little parsley in the cavity of the fish, cooked head on. On the other hand 25 years is a long time ..... Hmmmm?
