I think that most fly fisherman have a common personality trait. There obcessive compulsive. There always looking for perfection, chasing it. Hunting it down. Wether it the perfect drift acrossed a 3 seamed riffle. Putting the sneek on a impossible brooky. Or a 50 incher in my case. Were always looking the abosolute best outta of ourselves. Chasing that perfect fly, cast & fish. Thats what keep us passionate about fishing. Well thats at least my case.....
