
Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Orvis Sonic Seam Waders

Re: Orvis Sonic Seam Waders

Author: : 1wt

Date: : 2013/2/23 0:10:11

URL:

Quote:

Lonewolf wrote:

1WT,

Imho locally in the Lehigh Valley area we have Mainstream Outfitters(Orvis) in Doylestown
BTW I am 6'3" 265 I know your pain about finding stuff that fits.

Lone,

I'm also 265? (I'm on a veggie diet, so soon I might be a bit lighter) I used to be 6'4" but people shrink with age, and now I'm probably 6'3".

I used to live in Doylestown, and I went to Central Bucks High School. I used to fish Mill Creek and the Neshaminy (especially where 611 crosses it)

I love to shop on the internet (I might be part Nerd) so I ordered direct from Orvis. The waders arrived today only three days with standard shipping! LOL

Beautiful light olive waders with a neat belt system and neat realistic stocking foot. Nice water proof pockets, and they are very comfy for me to wear.

"Made in China" sticker, but China has the best world quality now. The seams are modern design (all in the back) and no stitching at all! Everything is melted (sonic seam) together. They look like they will hold up a long time for me.

Starting tomorrow, I'll be fly fishing all the trout streams in central PA. These waders were the last piece of the puzzle!

I'll probably see you on a trout stream when I head east!