

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Little Lehigh and other SEPA Fly Spots

Little Lehigh and other SEPA Fly Spots

Author: : InTheMend

Date: : 2013/2/23 12:24:40

URL:

I fish the LL Heritage section often and usually catch at least a few trout of decent size. I am only fourteen however and have not had a lot of time to explore new spots on the LL and other places around me. I live four minutes from the covered bridge at Valley, which is great but I'm looking for some more suitable water for euro nymphing, deeper, faster, wider. I am training for youth competitive FF and I need to continue practicing euro/straight line nymphing if I want to be good enough. I am felling like I need a new water body with different features to expose myself to different situations. This is quite a tall order, but does anyone know of a spot within 1 1/2 hours form Wayne, the town, PA that would fit that description? Thanks!