

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Rain gear for fishing

Re: Rain gear for fishing

Author: : JohnPowers

Date: : 2013/2/23 15:28:26

URL:

I have used the Il bean PAC-lite goretex jacket for several years. I'm 5'8", 165 and I have a large for over Bulky vest. It folds to fit in back vest pocket. Big and bulky is bad. Rain stops, suns out its warm jacket off, hang on bush fish downstream and go back to find jacket. price can't be beat. Poncho is worthless. their emerger II is less money and looks good. With bean postage and return policy I'd look at that first.